

Environmental Policy

Telehouse Europe is committed to providing services to customers and conducting business in an ethically and socially responsible manner that respects the environment and adheres to the principles of product stewardship.

Compliance

Telehouse Europe complies with all relevant local and national government laws and regulations, and will implement and maintain systems to assure compliance and encourage compliance from the organisations it works with.

Pollution Prevention

In its service provision, planning, purchasing, supplier selection or operating decisions, Telehouse Europe will establish environmental objectives and targets aimed at preventing pollution and improving its overall environmental performance.

Awareness

To ensure commitment to the environment, all employees, contractors, customers and suppliers will be made aware of this environmental policy. Employees will receive training on their environmental responsibilities.

Continual Improvement

Telehouse Europe will ensure that the effectiveness of this environmental management system will be continually regulated and improved with periodic audits, management reviews, and by achieving its environmental objectives. The environmental objectives, projects and policy will be reviewed annually and made available to the public.
